It was well into the silent hours of midnight when final preparations were made for the long, hard ride to the camp. Their paws were laid. They tightened and lashed up their saddle girths and saw to the security of all the fastenings. With a final, long, hard pull and ready for action, the horses started on their way. Ronald leading and the other closely following behind. The horses were taking the trail the nearer they approached the village of the camp. In this way they continued their advance until, through the darkness of the trees, they could distinguish the small lights where the tent was located. At a signal from the leader, they stopped to take a look at the nest of the ground. They could hear the horse's hoofs and stamping close by. Beyond their temporary pasture there was no sign to indicate the close presence of the outside world. The camp was still. Silence that all was safe, and that no sound had yet betrayed their presence. Ronald proceeded to carry his scheme of advance into effect.

Signaling his companion to stop where he was, he took his position beside his horse and quietly urged him forward. Finally emerging into the open space, he turned his horse to cover, for his tan coat blended well with the surroundings, he gradually worked his way on, carefully guiding his horse. The leader, however, directed him to allow him occasionally to pull at a tuft of grass at his feet. A few yards beyond and slightly to the right was a small, not easily visible in the darkness. With his eyes well accustomed to the darkness, he on closer inspection, made out the form of the man who was to be released in front of the tent. A few ahead of him two horses were grazing on the space between, and, using them as additional cover, he continued to slowly advance step by step.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Relived by Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ontario—"I used to have very bad pains in my back and sides and often was not able to do my work. I tried many medicines but nothing helped me to take years. I saw Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Toronto Globe' and thought that if she had helped me I recommended it to all of my neighbors. I keep it in the house all the time and take it three or four times a day no matter how well I feel for one ounce of it relieves all the pains of my body."

—ELIZABETH CAMPBELL, 13 St. Paul St., Lindsay, Ontario.

To do any kind of work—and you know there is much to be done—either to help your home or to earn a living from some form of female trade. It may cause your back to ache or a pain in your sides, it may make you feel tired and irritable. You may be able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.

Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the pains of those troubles, and restores

When he was within ten yards of the reclining man, he was starting to see him suddenly look up and take a look around the grounds. Eventually screened behind the horse, he started to move slowly, but yet he waited with revolver in hand, ready to shoot immediately in case of discovery. After taking a look around, and then peering into the tent, the man, apparently satisfied, all well, resumed his former position, and, in a short time, again seemed destined to his surroundings.

During the time Ronald remained stationary, a new idea formed in his mind. Reaching over into his saddle pack, he pulled out an Indian arrow and a spear. The spear had picked up after the Great War. Indian forces had captured Batoche, and which he was keeping as a trophy. Quite suddenly taking this spear on to his wrist by means of a loop attached to its raw hide handle, he commented to slowly advance towards the trail. All at once his attention was attracted to a sound, seemingly creeping through the tent opening. Surprise at this new turn in events, and fearing to give a warning, he stood still and watched it as it crept farther through the opening. Slowly as the figure emerged; it arose, first on hands and knees, then, with the right hand uplifted, to a crouching position. In a moment of surprise, the threatened victim being the prostrate man in front. At this instant, as if unconsciously sensing a trap, he turned his head towards her hidden rescue. Seeing her he flew into a panic, and she slowly collapsed while uttering a sound, and lay prostrate.

Ronald knew that the crisis had come, and that further delay was dangerous. He covered the distance that separated him from the prostrate with the silence and swiftness of a panther. With uttering a cry he landed him on the head with his fist, and the man rolled over unconscious, uttering a low moan.

Swiftly taking hold of the arm of the prostrate girl, he raised her to her feet, and then, as he had planned, he placed his revolver into her hands, gave her the bridle reins of his own horse, and whispering into her ear, told her that her father was nearby, and to go to him. Taking a last look in the direction of the other sleeping men, and noting that they were still unconscious, he rolled the unconscious man off the saddle, took his revolver and, picking up his saddle, he swiftly and noiselessly placed it on the back of one of the horses grazing on the hill. Lastly, inspired by a new idea, he went calmly and quickly about and cut loose, one by one, the remaining horses in the band, and mounted the only one left, leading and direction him over the trail they had come. At the point where the trail ascended into the hill, the trail descended into the valley. The horse, however, was not yet fully recovered from the exertion and strain of the long day's travel.

"Horse stealing!" he said, "the common penalty in their own country is death at sight, or hanging without trial."

In addition, they add to that the stealing of young women and carrying them away by force. I don't know what punishment is given, but I know that they would be punished, then hanged."

"But father, only one of those men knew I was a woman. While I should like to see justice done and punished, I would not like to see that a woman should be a dreadful punishment."

"That is the strange law of the prairie people. The law of the prairie is considered one of the most serious crimes."

Ronald thus appealed to the first person he met in the discussion by saying: "Miss Fraser, it is sometimes hard to decide on the justice or punishment in these cases."

"It is," said Miss Fraser, "because he has been so severely punished."

Mr. Fraser, who had given every thought to the predicament in which they were placed, said: "I don't know what you have done, but you have saved us from your clutches." But if the Mounted Police should come across them, they will take care of the horses.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS "LITTLE FOXES"

THE SOLDIER'S OUTFIT—SHOES

But when a shoe is worn out by hard service, that old boot is quite a sensible object.

The worn-out shoes of the boy who fought over no man's land, or marched through the enemy's barrage, or stood for us in the blood and water-stained trenches, are relics of his past.

A Spanish lullaby sings about the angels busy that they wore out their shoes but when the little tattered ones got to the doorway in heaven they were given new ones.

"Little ones go to the doorway of heaven."

Shambler, my darling boy."

That is the strange lullaby sung by some Spanish mothers to put their babies to sleep.

There was a man named Dunyan, who once had a wonderful dream.

He was about a sinner who became a Christian and who travelled from earth to heaven.

He was shown many wonderful places and saw wonderful things, and abode in a house that was built in the clouds.

He was shown a room where the angels were singing a merry song.

As she sat in her home from noon till night.

Her work is hard and the hours are long.

But the little woman's heart is light.

No one ever has seen feet who wear shoes of sunshine.

(2) The Bible says it is a good thing to wear shoes that are called "the shoes of the gospel of peace."

I wonder what things are?

It is not easy to say, but I fancy it means we should be always ready to preach the gospel of peace.

"What?" you say. "Preach the gospel of peace?"

"Why should a preacher not depend on his own hands and feet?"

He is not to depend on his own hands and feet in handling out what justice is due, according to their common code of law.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW OF FIRST IMPORTANCE

Mrs. Alice Ames-Carter, wife has been president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs for the past four years and well known to the American public makes the following comment in the course of a recent address:

"Undoubtedly law enforcement is one of the greatest issue before us. It stretches out into all forms of crime and punishment. When we realize that in London last year there were only nine cases of murder in the first degree, and not one of them un-solved; and in New York alone in 1921 there were 360 murders and only 3 convictions in the first degree; when we know that thieves, swindlers and frauds rob of over two and a half million dollars every year, in addition to what bootleggers and grafters get out of us, we cannot escape the fact that we are far down in the scale of civilization so far as law and execution of law is concerned. And yet law is the first requisite of a self-governing democracy, if it is to live."

NEW CURE FOR DRUNKENNESS

Not Only Kills Raging Thirst, But Tones Down Vivid Noses.

Paris, April 12.—The little town of Membrille, near Tours, has produced a doctor who has discovered a cure for drunkenness. The interesting thing about the cure is that it has been successful every time it has been applied.

Dr. L'Hospitalier has not the least desire to hold his discovery to himself, as he sent it to a medical journal and to those of his colleagues who would like to try it.

It looks very simple, this remedy.

When an invertebrate drunkard presents himself for treatment, Dr. L'Hospitalier takes a small quantity of blood from him. This is made into serum and subcutaneous injections are made.

After an injection the doctor declares that the drunkard does not desire to drink any more.

However, the effects last only ten days, but in the meantime what the doctor calls "moral and hetero-suggestive treatment" combined with isolation, if necessary, can be applied.

Dr. L'Hospitalier discovered the remedy quite by chance. One day a family asked him to cure one of the members of the drinking habit. He thought of the remedies used in past times. Then he remembered that at the present moment auto-hemo-therapeutics were being used with success in the treatment of certain ailments.

This made him think that perhaps he could find in the blood of drinkers the antidote.

He risked the operation and it succeeded beyond his hopes. He has so far cured 10 persons ranging from thirty to seventy years of age and in not one of these cases was there more than three injections necessary. Another detail has been added. The drunkards are not only cured, but their noses resume the normal color.

DANISH IMMIGRANTS IN DEMAND IN CANADA

New settlers arriving in western Canada from Denmark are in great demand on prairie farms. Of a party of 100 Danish immigrants arriving at Saskatoon last week, more than half were secured by farmers under contract through the services of the colonization department of the Canadian National Railways, within a few hours of their arrival. Many of these men are scientific agriculturists.

THE MACLEOD JUBILEE

July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, 1924

"Tempora mutantur nes et mutantur illis." The Old West is dead. The mighty herds of buffalo which once roamed the rolling plains have passed with the coming of the White Man and the creation of the Red River carts and the war cry of the Redskins will no more be heard in the land. Yet the memory of those stirring times still remains even in our prosaic present of Petrol and Prohibition. In the far off days of '74 the first foremen of the famous force completed their trek of nearly one thousand miles across the pathless prairie and set up their log cabins on the banks of the Old Man River, naming the spot Fort Macleod in honor of the dauntless leader. It was an outpost of the Empire in every truth and citizens of the modern town of Macleod are just proud of its romantic past. Fifty years have fled since the day when the first settlers came to the work, and the Jubilee in commemoration of the arrival of the Riders of the Plains and of the founding of the Town of Macleod will be celebrated in a manner worthy of importance of the occasion. If the sympathy and assistance of every Old Timer in the province and the whole-hearted and unanimous support of the citizens is an augury the success of the Macleod Jubilee is a foregone conclusion. The list of honorary patrons includes such significant and well-known names as those of Lieut-Governor Dr. R. G. Brett, Premier Greenfield, Commissioner C. Starnes, of the R.C.M.P., Sir Frederick Haultain and Judge E. R. Wood; while it is most fitting, the Town chief, Mayor J. W. McDonald, K.C., has been elected by acclamation as president of the organization which is responsible for staging the celebration. A representative body of citizens has been appointed as directors to manage the different departments and details of the program are already being worked out by them. The services of Mr. Ray Knight, himself somewhat of an old timer and famous throughout the west as an organizer of successful stampedes, has been secured as rodeo and stampede manager. Mr. Knight will bring some of his wildest horses and steers to the show and there is absolutely no doubt that this will be one of the best ever staged. Steps are already being taken to put the local fair grounds in shape for an event of such magnitude, the grand stand being generously increased, and a great many more will be able to witness the performances from autos parked in a special enclosure. The chairman in charge of the housing and accommodation committee is preparing to deal with a large influx of visitors, a number of which will take advantage of the two well appointed Tourist Camps which the town has been so justly famed for several seasons past, and the local hotel proprietors have already received applications for reservations. In addition to the stampedes there will be a Grand Pageant illustrative of the development and progress of the country from those distant days of the travois and covered wagon to the present pullman car and super-six. The R. C. M. P. will feature a mounted musical ride and a complete race meet besides other sports and the Indian programs. In connection with this feature, the assistance of the N.W.M. P. Veterans Association is indispensable and is being freely given by every member of the local branch while other units throughout the province have offered their support. The braves of the Peigan and Blood reserves will take part in the Pageant in their full panoply of paint and feathers. The evenings will be given to a street barbecue with a possible Buffalo barbecue in the Court House Square to conclude the festivities. The Jubilee Queen will be chosen by popular vote and keen competition is expected for this unique honor. The queen will be crowned by some distinguished visitor. The occasion being of much more than merely local significance, it is earnestly hoped that all neighboring communities, and in fact the whole province, will do everything possible to assist in the celebration of such wide and historic importance.

"Why don't you pick up that note?" asked a traveller in Germany who saw a native drop 1000 marks. "Ach," replied the German. "Last week I stooped to pick up such a note and lost a suspender button, and you can't get a suspender button under 5000 marks."

FREAK FISH FOR BRITISH FAIR

LONDON, April 18.—One of the novelties at the British Empire Exhibition which opens at Wembley Park in April will be the monster aquarium, claimed to be the finest in Europe, with the single exception of that at Naples.

On all the seven seas, fishermen are hunting for specimens to make Wembley's aquarium remarkable.

The most remarkable of Wembley's lesser-known "boarders" is the African devilfish "Afanta," which is 16 feet long and nearly as broad. It weighs 6000 pounds and has a tank to itself on account of its voracious appetite, which would empty any aquarium of smaller fish in a very short time. The "Afanta" possesses a mouth three feet wide, and in its native element it devours its parents when given the opportunity. The parents get it first. A guarantee satisfaction. —Jly 26-tf.

shoal of herrings will be shown for the first time in this country. Oysters bed good and bad, will be reproduced.

A day in the life of a lobster will be another attraction, sufficient lobsterers being available to permit the visitor to observe the shedding of an old shell. So that no touch of realism is lost, there will be sufficient of the lobsters' natural enemies in the tank to make things uncomfortable.

Special efforts are being made to catch the Aspolt for the aquarium. This little-known fish has four legs, as well as fins, and unless supplied with a continuous flow of water it sucks up its native home and is then fully equipped to walk on dry land.

WREATHS AND SPRAYS artistically arranged and at prices that are moderate. Phone 222, Scott's. We guarantee satisfaction. —Jly 26-tf.

That advertising properly done is worth its weight in gold?

That advertising a town is business, not child's play?

That if they do, they will get the business you should get?

UNITED STATES IMMIGRANTS

Dominion immigration offices along the western border from Port Arthur to Kingate report the number of immigrants to western Canada from the United States during March totalled 819 persons. The value of the effects brought in by them was $49,659, and the wealth of the settlers was $304,207.

Will the public ever get to know just what the boozey gate west of Coleman has cost the province since its establishment. It's easy to figure out the revenue, but public taxes had to meet the greatly overbalanced cost.

Newspaper readers are reminded with astonishing regularity that men who will attempt to light a cigarette while filling a gasoline tank are still numerous throughout the country.

According to the basis on which Alberta is now receiving subsidy from the federal government, the population is estimated to be 646,000. The 1921 census gave the population at 588,000.

Because E. J. Garland, Progressive member for Bow River, Alberta, told a few facts regarding this province to a Montreal audience, he is referred to by at least one Alberta daily paper as a pessimist.

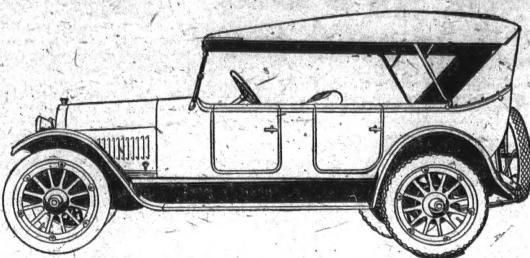

The Ferne K. of P's have appointed a committee with the object in view of forming a league for football, baseball and other sports among the societies of the city. A similar arrangement proved quite a success in 1909.

Three more schools have been burned in the Dukobukor settlement of Brilliant, B.C. In addition, the brilliant residence of Vere Vergen, the Duk's king, has been destroyed by fire.

Rev. J. Phillips Jones, M.A., B.D., for several years pastor of Knox Presbyterian church, Lethbridge, has been appointed associate secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, and will assume his duties on September the 1st.

The two greatest crimes one may be found guilty of in the Crows' Nest Pass are the carrying "outside one's person" a half pint of beer or more, or becoming dead drunk with no possibility of earning another cent. Penalties provided by law are, in the first case $50 to $250 or one to six months in jail; and in the latter case $50 or forty days' hard labor, being carefully watched over as though one had murdered a score of citizens. Yes, Canada has modern civilization, all right.

OLDSMOBILE WINS BY COMPARISON

NO CAR LIKE THIS

This five-passenger touring car of 110½-inch wheel base and weighing 2300 pounds, road-weight, embodies the finest engineering principles that have been developed in this country and Europe during the past few years.

Its 21-horsepower six-cylinder engine has been the keen admiration of men who have steadily followed the evolution of internal combustion engineering. Here at last is the smooth flowing power of multiple cylinder effort, together with high economy of fuel and lubricant. Not only that—the New Model Oldsmobile is the most popular and most sought after feature heretofore lacking in light cars. It holds to the road as though it were a horse of twice its weight. The unusual road ability is attributable in part to scientific spring suspension, but more especially can it be accounted for by a nicely of balance which obtains throughout the car.

Windshields on Roadster and Touring Car are the slanting two-piece type, fitted closely with rubber strip. Tops are clear vision type, beautifully tailored, with four strong bows to retain the true shape indefinitely. Storm curtains open with doors. The Touring Car, as all models, is equipped with nickel-plated radiator, transmission lock, stop light and court tires.

singing was assisted by the Hillcrest Amateur Orchestra.

Sales of the six-cylinder Oldsmobile for the first quarter of 1924 break all records, with a total of 21,214 cars sold. Sales for the corresponding period totalled 7636 cars; for the first period of 1920, the previous high first quarter, they totalled 5888 cars. The high sales for the first three months of 1924 are in a way the most remarkable from the fact that for the first time in many years the Olds motor works is concentrating on one chassis—something that it has not done since the days of the curved dash runabout.

On Tuesday evening a shower and dance was given in honor of Miss Elsie Coates, a bride-to-be. A large crowd turned out to enjoy the unusually pleasant evening. One very pleasing feature was a wagon beautifully decorated and heaped high with gifts, which was drawn by Master Gordon Swart and little Elva Easterbrook, who were dressed in perfect wedding attire. Elva looked especially sweet in her long trailing veil and carrying the large bridal bouquet.

They halted in front of the bride elect and waited patiently for the wagon to be unloaded, circling the hall once more amidst the applauding and shouts of the crowd. Splendid music was furnished by local talent and the dance was very much enjoyed.

"What would you say," began a volatile prophet of woe, "if I tell you that in a very short space of time all the rivers of this country would dry up?" "I would say," replied his patient friend, "go thou and do likewise."

On To The Bay!

In the widespread—almost universal—demand in Canada for reduced expenditures and reduction in taxation, and which it is pleasing to note is making itself felt at Ottawa, in the several Provincial capitals, and in practically all municipal centres, there is some degree of danger that people will unthinkingly condemn all expenditures on new projects without taking the trouble to ascertain whether expenditures in certain directions may not be true economy. There is also the danger that interested parties will endeavor to capitalise the popular demand in order to defeat projects which, because of self-interest, they oppose.

If the cost of a $5,000 building calls for repairs, and heavy loss will result unless major repairs are made, it will be the height of folly to refuse the necessary expenditure, which is small. If the economical handling of the output of a factory was prevented because of lack of a railway siding, it would be foolish to save the cost of such siding at the expense of the proper management and development of the industry. Yet signs are not lacking that, in the demand for reduction in expenditures, just such foolishness will be followed in the management of public business.

The completion of the Hudson Bay Railway is a case in point. Canada has spent tens of millions on this railway. A hundred or more miles of track has been laid, and more miles of roadbed graded. Large sums have been expended on terminal facilities. Every cent of this money is absolutely wasted, thrown away, unless further expenditures are made to complete the undertaking. Yet the writer of a series of articles in a Toronto publication on extravagance at Ottawa and the "pork barrel" singles out the Hudson Bay Railway for attack and denounces the spending of another dollar on it. He charges that it is a purely political undertaking, a huge scheme at public expense to buy votes in the West.

The facts remain that the Hudson Bay Railway is approved not by one party seeking votes, but by all three political parties in Canada. It is demanded by the Provincial Legislatures in the Western Prairie Provinces. By all representatives elected in the West, and by the people generally. If there is one thing required in the West today it is a restoration of confidence, and an announcement of the immediate completion of the road to the Bay would do more for any other than a real estate confidence.

Eastern cities, particularly in Montreal and Toronto, scoff at the feasibility of the Hudson Bay route. Their opposition is, clearly, not so much on account of its feasibility and success and consequent loss of Western traffic passing through or paying toll to these cities. Admittedly, the Hudson Bay route can be used only a portion of the year. But this is likewise true of the ports of Montreal, Quebec and Toronto. Yet Canada has spent hundreds of millions on these ports in order that they may be used for certain months each year, and the money has been well spent. But if the cities of a by-gone day had had their way, these inland ports would not have been developed and Canada would have depended on the all-the-year-round seaports of the Maritime Provinces.

People scoffed at Christopher Columbus. Canada itself was described as so many acres of ice and snow not worth the keeping. Within the memory of the writer a Toronto syndicate declined a franchise for an electric street railway in Ottawa because it could not be successfully operated on account of heavy snowfall. Pages might be filled with similar evidence of scoffers and critics of by-gone days.

Canada is commencing the Hudson Bay Railway. It will be completed some day. Then why not now and begin to reap the benefits of its construction and operation? Critics and scoffers will insist that this is the time because Canada must reduce expenditures and economy. But this is not the case. The position will demand economy and careful scrutiny of expenditures not made in 1924 but for the next twenty-five or fifty years until our war debt is paid off. It is sincerely to be hoped that the present public demand for retrenchment and reduction in taxation is not "a flash in the pan," spasmoidly made and quickly forgotten. If that is all it is, then it will be worse than useless for the tendency will be to follow it with a new orgy of extravagance.

Every year that passes without the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway means economic loss to Western Canada and its people. It means retarding the development and prosperity of this section of the Dominion, which will reflect adversely on all Canada. Every year means greater deterioration in the work already done on the road, consequently additional expenditure ultimately.

On counts, therefore, now is the time to proceed with the completion of the railway as rapidly as possible. Its ultimate completion cannot be prevented; it can only be delayed. Inasmuch as delays mean all round loss, then in the name of reason, why delay? Rather, let us go "on to the Bay" with all possible speed.

Smithsonian Institution Describes Exploration in Field Work

The Smithsonian Institute at Washington has just issued an illustrated pamphlet describing the explorations and field work conducted by members of its staff or in co-operation with other organizations during 1923. Besides many localities in the United States, the regions visited include the Canadian Rockies; the Lang-Tze Valley, China; several islands of the West Indies; Panama and Central America; Labrador and various countries in Europe. The branches of science represented include geology, paleontology, astrophysics, zoology, botany, anthropology and ethnology.

Secretary Charles D. Walcott continued his geological research in the Canadian Rockies, working especially in the Great-Devonian strata from the Chilcotin area southeast to the Bow Valley and along the eastern side of the Columbia River Valley. The latter region was found to be excellent for geological studies, as many canyons and ridges give access to several of the formations from top to bottom. Beneath the great series of limestone, shales and sandstones there are 16,000 feet of older strata.

Two Million Pieces Will Be Required For Restaurants

Although the public is being educated daily in the gigantic proportion of Empire Exhibition, it is somewhat astonishing to learn that two million pieces of chinaware will be required to maintain the service in twenty-five restaurants and cafes there. Of this 95 per cent. is to be made in the potteries by English firms, and 2 per cent. represents the special decorative ware which will be ordered from the continent for the most exclusive of the restaurants, to which the name "Lucullus" has been given. An order for £40,000 worth of table silver has already been placed with a Birmingham firm, and all 150,000 spoons, forks and knives will be required there. Orderers for table linen will embrace 730,000 pieces, and 350,000 glasses, 45,000 chairs and 7,500 tables will be required. The largest kitchen at the exhibition will be admirably equipped and will be a third of an acre in extent.

British Government Will Foster Production in Kenya

The location of the government to foster cotton production in Kenya, Africa, has been indicated by Colonial Secretary J. H. Thomas to the House of Commons. All the evidence, he said, showed that cotton could be grown in Kenya far more extensively than it had been, and it is the kind of cotton that is particularly suitable to the Lancashire trade. "If we can grow cotton within the Empire," he said, "it is our obvious duty to do so."

Some love affairs end at the altar—but the majority never get that far.

Indian Women Style

Itched and Burned. Face a Sight. Cuticura Heals.

"My face came on all over in little red pimples and then it would itch. I would rub and scratch it and little eruptions would come. They itched and burned and at night would bother me. My face was a sight. I tried various things but without success and then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment which completely healed me," says Mrs. M. Tootle, Cundys Hayton, Middle, March 13, 1922.

Use Cuticura for every-day toilet purposes. Bath with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with talcum.

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap ever made."

"Cuticura Soap leaves without me."

SAYS PRESSING NEED OF CANADA IS IMMIGRANTS

Windsor, Ont.—Canada can, without any danger, absorb between 300,000 and 500,000 newcomers yearly, and steps should be taken immediately by the Dominion Government to secure settlers of a desirable type, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told the Board of Trade here.

Among other proposals made by Mr. Beatty was one that the Dominion Government float a $10,000,000 bond issue to be used in assisting settlers to go on the land. He strongly urged the government to co-operate with provincial bodies and semi-public bodies toward filling up the vacant lands in Canada. The government should make a special and intensive advertising campaign to attract settlers and capital to Canada, he said.

The country is suffering from "too great railway mileage and too great overhead," Mr. Beatty continued. "It was the same way with a number of manufacturers. There was a heartfelt demand for national economy, and much might be expected from a policy which would spread the burden of taxation over more shoulders. The sooner the uncultivated farm lands of the west were populated the easier it would be for the taxpayers of Ontario cities.

New Lignite Board Headquarters

Will Be Located in Regina, With T. M. Molloy As Chairman

Regina.—The Lignite Utilization Board of Canada, with Thomas M. Molloy as its chairman, will have its headquarters in Regina hereafter.

Mr. Molloy's appointment to the board, with that of Dr. Charles Campbell, deputy minister of mines, Ottawa, was the subject of a press dispatch from the capital received here.

Mr. Molloy and Dr. Campbell now constitute the board, replacing the old board whose members resigned some 10 days ago. This latter consisted of Dr. A. A. Ross, Montreal, and Drs. N. W. McPherson and J. A. Shepherd, Moose Jaw.

Hon. John Bracken, premier of Manitoba, has recently been in Ottawa in consultation with the minister of mines respecting the future policy of the Manitoba Government in respect to lignite utilization and whether that province, which recently withdrew from the lignite enterprise at Ulenfeld, Sask., will again associate itself with it and be represented on the board as now constituted. What the position of Manitoba in the matter now is as a result of these negotiations is still unknown here and on this depends much of the policy of the new board.

Believe Men Buried Under Slide in Windermere District

Nelson, B.C.—R. W. Wahl and Emil Meitzer, of Sooktumchuck, are believed to be under a slide at Copper Lake in the Windermere district. When they failed to come out on April 1, a friend investigated, to find a slide between their cabin and tunnel.

They damped up in November and from the small amount of work done in the tunnel, it is believed they were buried in January.

Britain Willing To Discuss Disarmament

Premier Says General Conference of Powers Is Desirable

London.—Prime Minister MacDonald, responding to a speech in the Commons by Major-General J. E. Seeley, former president of the Army Council, who advocated that the Premier call an international conference for disarmament, declared he would welcome an invitation by any other power to return to the whole question of armaments.

The Prime Minister, while emphasizing that a general conference on armament was desirable, declared it was of "greatest" importance that there be no reason for misunderstanding between Great Britain and France. "It is most important that that should be so," he said. His statement on British relations with France was coupled with a reference to "this unfortunate air race that has already begun."

Berlin Loss Population
Berlin.—At the beginning of 1924 Berlin had a population of 4,000,000, according to official statistics. This is 15,000 less than a year ago.

Corporal Punishment In the British Navy

London.—Whipping of boys in the navy with a birch, for disciplinary purposes, will not be abolished, declared Charles Ammon, Parliamentary Secretary of the Admiralty, in answer to a question in the House of Commons. Such punishment is inflicted by court martial for certain serious offences. When he went to the Admiralty, Secretary Ammon said, he made enquiries on the matter and he found there had only been six cases since 1917 of offences at all serious. Most of the flogged boys "made good," whereas in previous cases of imprisonment for offences the boys had "gone bad."

Heavy Stocks of Grain

Quantity of Grain in Canada, Except Rye, is Greater Than Last Year

Ottawa.—On March 31, 1924, the quantity of wheat in Canada was 202,493,000 bushels, as compared with 139,788,000 bushels in 1923, according to returns received by the Federal Bureau of Statistics. The following are the totals for coarse grains and Oats, 283,516,000 bushels, compared with 191,718,000 bushels in 1923.

Barley, 30,119,000 as compared with 25,429,000.

Flax, 4,265,000 as compared with 17,420,000.

For all these grains excepting rye, the quantity at the end of March, 1924, is greater than that of a year ago.

JAPAN HOTLY RESENTS THE U.S. EXCLUSION ACT

Tokio.—The Young Choko represents the Japans, declares editorially that the action of the United States Congress in passing the exclusion legislation amounts to a challenge to Japan. It says the nation must prepare for whatever may come, even to war.

The Kokumin demands the immediate resignation of the minister. Numerous public bodies, including the Associated Chambers of Commerce in Japan, the American-Japan Society, and the Japan Economic Society have called urgent meetings to discuss the immigration situation.

Officials do not deny the probability of Japanese seasonal population, and it is fully expected that the opposition will make all possible political capital from the government's immigration defeat. The action of Congress comes as a blow in the heat of an election campaign throughout Japan.

The commission wired that the date mentioned would be satisfactory.

Trial Smelter Can Handle All Ores Says Mining Official

Nelson, B.C.—Commenting on the phase of the coast agitation for a smelter built on the suggestion that Trail Smelter has about reached its limit, an official of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada made the statement that the export of zinc concentrates and lead bullion from the Trail Smelter to Europe is only temporary, and is strictly pending the completion of the new extended smelter being made in the West. Monarch, Power and Light Company, the Trail corporation's subsidiary, "is no thought of shutting off the handling of customs ore and concentrates."

About a year ago, her daughter Alice was murdered in the States, and three years ago her husband was found dead in a shack in the Cariboo country, where he had been prospecting. The family formerly resided at Burns and later at Creston, where one daughter, Mrs. Carnochan, resides at present.

Mr. John J. Jakobson, capitalist, philanthropist and industrial engineer, of Seattle, Washington, was in the Crows' Nest Pass over the week end and was incidentally the guest of Mr. L. H. Putnam at the Cosmopolitan hotel on Sunday. Mr. Jakobson represents large capital and mining interests in both Seattle and Spokane, and looked over some properties in the vicinity of Crows' Nest. During his stay here, Mr. Jakobson was active in the regulation Duke of Connaught hall robes and carried a beautiful silver-topped Seattle rose cane. Mr. Jakobson expressed himself as highly pleased with what little he had seen during his stay.

1st Lady—I'm simply crazy, my dears, not knowing whether I'll be struck by lightning or blown up through the roof.

2nd Lady—Why, what has brought about such conditions, pray?

1st Lady—Willie in the garret with a radio set and the old man in the cellar with a ten-gallon still.
